Programme Notes — Oxford – Saturday 6th December 2025 – Tony Sharpe writes:

Prynhawn da, Croeso to today's game and compliments of the season to you all!

We have a massive few weeks ahead of us over the festive period starting with today's visitors Oxford United this afternoon, and I think I'm right in saying most of us want as close to maximum points as possible on our Christmas wish list! Worth mentioning perhaps our "King Charles" - Jeremy an integral part of our 1st promotion to the top tier also played for today's visitors.

As I've said before, I'm extremely proud to part of the Swans Trust heritage group where we recently unveiled the latest two of the 1st phase street art cabinet boxes which includes 'The Allchurch Brothers' (on Cwm Level Road), 'The Alice Street Boys' (on Alice Street), Trevor Ford (on Townhill Road), (Cliff Jones & Terry Medwin on Western St), Mel Nurse (on Burrows Road), and Harry Griffiths (on Glamorgan Street, near our spiritual home where Harry passed away).

The next batch will include Herbie Williams, The Charles family (John, Mel & Jeremy) Robbie James & Leighton James. The idea behind this was to recognise those individuals who achieved so much in the sport we love but also hopefully inspire the younger generation to take up football and strive to be the next star from that community or be the first from another. Although at early stages, we are in discussion with the Railway Inn to have player murals on the pine ends of their venue and also with the FAW to recognise the Cymru internationals from Swansea as part of our nation's 125 anniversary celebrations next year.

On Thursday (04/12/25) we held a Quiz night at the Penderyn Distillery across the way from the stadium. The event was to raise money & awareness for Faith in Families our nominated charity Faith in Families - Charity Swansea - Brecon. I'd like to take this opportunity on behalf of the Trust Board to thank the venue (and highly recommended booking a tour, or indeed calling in on match day which is open 3 hours before KO on match day), as well as our Trust ambassador Dave Brayley for hosting/presenting the quiz, and Sian for her support on the night. It was Sian who initially brought the charity to our attention and we've been proud to support this season – donations can be made at the Trust kiosk on match days in return for these programme notes and a team sheet. I'd like to give a special mention to Karen from Faith in Families who gave a resounding speech bringing to the forefront the need of support of this charity. For more information please see link and check our socials for total monies raised.

We really need to get behind the boys today, there's still plenty of games and points to be won, morale is very important and support/chanting shouldn't only be when we're winning btw!

Wishing you all a very Merry Christmas and a Happy and prosperous New Year!
